

TAX MANAGER □ AMAZON

Location: Luxembourg

Amazon EU seeks a Tax Manager to support its European business operations. The ideal candidate will be able to work with a high level of collegiality, functioning as a tax adviser and project supervisor. Primary duties include:

- Contribute to implementation of agreed-upon European tax strategies and projects
- Assist with developing strategic and operational implementation work plans and ability to measure results against plans
- Review financial data for proper application of tax laws
- Assist with managing relationships with outside tax consultants and regulatory authorities on an ongoing basis

This position, based in our European headquarter in Luxembourg, interacts with the company's European business units, so any candidate should be able to work well with cross functional teams. The candidate must be able to communicate complex tax concepts in ways that are meaningful and useful to non-tax professionals.

BASIC QUALIFICATIONS

The ideal candidate will have a minimum of 5 years of international income tax experience with a public accounting firm, major law firm, and/or in industry, preferably a multinational corporation. The job requires excellent written and oral communication skills and an understanding of European tax law. Fluency in English is required.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

Additional requirements include:

- Degree in law or accounting - chartered accountant (or equivalent) or graduate degree in taxation preferred
- Understanding of accounting concepts preferred
- Detail-oriented individual who takes ownership of projects
- Ability to communicate clearly and concisely with all levels of management
- Excellent analytical and problem-solving skills
- Able to extract, analyze, and review data and make appropriate recommendations
- Work effectively in a team environment
- Hard working, quicker learner with a positive "can do" attitude and solid professionalism
- Partner well with people at all levels within an organization
- Able to work in a fast paced, informal, and often ambiguous environment
- Another European language is a nice to have
- Excellent Excel and general computer skills
